There is a George Floyd in every city in America

Our hearts break for George Floyd’s family, friends and community. Our hearts break for our country. Our hearts break for our students - who have inherited a system founded on racism and injustice.

The Winooski school community vehemently condemns the mental and physical violence directed at People of Color in the United States. As an organization, the Winooski Board of School Directors firmly believe that everyone should be afforded their inalienable rights to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. The abhorrent killing of George Floyd, Breonna Taylor, Ahmaud Arbery and many, many others demonstrates that we are utterly failing to uphold our country’s founding principles in the Black community.

The condemnation is easy. What is much harder is knowing what to do now. We may not be able to solve the country’s problems, but we can take ownership of what happens in Winooski and its school district.

Our Board of Trustees vows to:
- Build trust with marginalized communities, truly listening to the voices that are often left unheard.
- Be vigilant and consistent in dealing with racism in any form.
- Require that all of our students and staff are treated fairly and equally.
- Examine our policies and practices to ensure that we are truly meeting our ends statement for all.
- Require measurable equity progress, as shown by data that is based not just on students’ academic achievements but also on connection to our community and school.
- Ensure everyone in our learning community has access to bias and equity training.
- Educate our students to be allies in ending discrimination.
- Empower our students of color to speak up for themselves and others.
- Hold ourselves to high standards of accountability to our community in meeting these equity goals.

We are the board of the most diverse school district in Vermont. WSD has the highest percentage of students who identify as Black within the second whitest state in the United States. We have a profound responsibility to our students and their families to do better.

We also recognize that many of our students are discovering racism since they moved to our country for safety. Tragically, our students are quickly learning that the U.S. does not, in fact, guarantee safety to people who look like them.

We might not be able to end institutional racism across America. But we can try to end racism in Winooski. Providing an equitable education to our students is the best tool we have to accomplish this goal. We will ask our students: What do you want from your future and how do we get you there? They will see their dreams and goals reflected in our policies, practices and course offerings.

The School Board of Winooski Schools is committed to providing this equitable education. We, the Winooski School Board of Trustees, call on the community of Winooski to stand with us in combating racism in all its forms to ensure each of our students are truly afforded their inalienable rights.

In solidarity,
Michael Decarreau, WSD School Board President, Margaret Bass, Tori Cleiland, Matthew MacNeil, Alex Yin, WSD School Board Members

Message about the Killing of George Floyd

The Winooski School District Leadership Team wants to express our deep sadness and outrage at George Floyd’s death, yet another Black person killed because of the systemic racism inherent in our nation.

We understand that despite the long history of racism and injustice in our country and in our schools, Families of Color continue to entrust us with their precious children’s education. We must be worthy of their trust. These are some of the ways we are trying to combat racism in ourselves and our schools:

A group has been reviewing our hiring procedures and drafting a hiring statement for the active recruitment of teachers of color. We are prepared to back this work with financial resources.

We are committed to offering a safe space for our students to process their emotions and express their voices - through art, video activism, and letter writing.

We are training our staff to help facilitate these challenging conversations with our students.

Over the last few years, educators at the Winooski School District have begun the journey of engaging in courageous conversations together about race and equity through different types of professional development. There is much more for us to do. It is moments like this that highlight why this work is so important and it must serve as a catalyst for promoting change in our community so we can expand this important work.

We recognize the need to develop a clear vision and action plan for moving our school community’s equity work ahead. This work will take shape over the course of the next school year. We are organizing informal equity dialogues over the summer to begin this process. If you would like to participate in these groups please email Kristen Kollgaard at kkollgaard@wsdvt.org.

Welcome New Staff!
By Emily Hecker, WSD Communications and Development Director

We asked these new staffers a few questions so we could all get to know them better.

Michael Eppolito, WSD’s new Curriculum Director

Michael Eppolito is currently the Director of Curriculum for the Two Rivers Supervisory Union, which covers the towns of Chester, Andover, Cavendish, Ludlow, and Mt Holly. In that role, I oversee the teacher mentoring system, professional learning for all the teachers, and all aspects of our curriculum. I am also a national facilitator for the School Reform Initiative; a national organization focused on educational equity and excellence. In that role, I have had the honor of working with teachers from all over the country. I also serve as a teaching fellow for the Flow of History, an organization centered in the Connecticut River Valley. I help design and deliver professional learning on how to teach history effectively.

What do you hope to accomplish in your first year with WSD?

My primary goal is to learn about Winooski’s culture and values. I will spend time listening to students and the community about what they value and want to see in their curriculum. I also plan to get to know the teaching staff at JFK and Winooski High School and Middle School. I have learned over my years in leadership that anything I accomplish has to be grounded in the community and the relationships I build.

What is your proudest accomplishment?

I am very proud of the teacher leadership teams I nurtured at Two Rivers. TRSU was formed through a merger several years before Act 46. That merger joined two organizations with different histories, organizational cultures, and belief systems. This new supervisory union could have quickly become six isolated schools and a central office. Over seven years, I worked with our Administrative Council to build several teacher leadership groups and supported them as they created a coherent and unified educational organization. We rebuilt our mentoring system, designed teacher-driven inservice, and began the transition to a proficiency-based curriculum. I guess those were the teachers’ and the principals’ accomplishments, but I played a part.

What do you do for fun?

I enjoy the walks my dog Charlie takes me on. I love getting out on my mountain bike in the warmer months and cross-country skis when there is snow. I also love reading. I am reading These Truths by Jill Lepore and Reading In The Brain by Stanislas Dehaene.

Why do you heart Winooski?

I love how Winooski centers student voices and experiences. I have already participated in a Culture and Community Capstone presented by two students. One part of my interview process involved a discussion with a team of students. I observed a high school community meeting and was impressed by how students ran the program.

Please join us in welcoming Michael to the WSD team. You can connect with him at michael_eppolito@yahoo.com

Stephanie Beland, WSD’s new 2nd Grade Teacher

What did you do before you came to WSD?

Before joining Winooski School District, I taught 1st grade in Bakersfield, Vermont for 4 years. I began working at Bakersfield Elementary School after graduating from The University of Vermont with a Bachelor’s Degree in Elementary Education. I am currently completing my Master’s Degree through Southern New Hampshire University.

One of the many things that brought me to WSD was my experience with THRIVE Summer Program. I have been a THRIVE teacher in Winooski for 3 years and I completely fell in love with the school and the community.

What do you hope to accomplish in your first year with WSD?

I hope to create lasting relationships with students and coworkers. I believe that relationships are one of the most important pieces to teaching. I cannot wait to play games with my students, make silly jokes, and learn together throughout the year! I hope to bring my love of music to the classroom and learn about what my students are passionate about.

What is your proudest accomplishment?

My proudest accomplishment is deciding to be a teacher! I struggled with figuring out "what I want to be when I grow up" for quite some time. Throughout my time at UVM I switched majors 3 times before I discovered that teaching was my perfect fit. I always knew that I wanted to work with children, but I didn't know in what capacity. Deciding to become a teacher and beginning my career after graduating gave me an incredible sense of purpose and accomplishment.

What do you do for fun?

I live in Winooski so I enjoy trying new restaurants - I've got to say, we have the best food choices in Winooski! I also enjoy spending time with my two dogs, Griffin and Galadriel (yes, my 8 pound Chihuahua is named after a Lord of the Rings elf). You can often find me walking my dogs around Winooski or reading a book in my yard with my pups close by.

Why do you heart Winooski?

I heart Winooski because the community is a family. This community is loving, accepting, and provides opportunities for all of its residents to enjoy the small city. I heart Winooski because the students and teachers are so of the most passionate and inspiring people I have ever met. Most of all, I heart Winooski because it is my home and I love the people in it.

-----------------------------------------------

Patrick Cafferky, WSD’s new 4th grade teacher

What did you do before you came to WSD?

Before I came to WSD I taught 4th grade for two years in Morrisville, Vermont. I coached cross-country skiing for two of those years and started my masters degree, which I am still working on. Before that I taught 4th grade in Westminster, Vermont for two years. Before I became a teacher I was a bicycle mechanic. I love figuring out how to make things work and create new things with my hands.

What do you hope to accomplish in your first year with WSD?

I am looking forward to joining a new community of learners. I have always thought that Winooski was an interesting place and to be joining this community really excites me. I can't wait to get to know my colleagues and the students next year.

What do you do for fun?

In the summer I spend a lot of time riding my bicycle (mountain biking and riding dirt roads), running, and working on woodworking projects. In the winter, I spend a lot of time cross country skiing. The activities make me happy but the connections I make with others are why I do it.

Why do you heart Winooski?

I’ve been so impressed by how welcoming the school has been already and I’ve heard so many positive things about the Winooski Community as a whole.

Winooski Students Meet Dr. Terrence Roberts

By Emily Hecker, WSD Communications and Development Director

In late May, high school students had an incredible experience in meeting Dr. Terrence Roberts, one of the Little Rock Nine.

The students were studying the desegregation efforts of Sylvia Mendez in CA and the Little Rock Nine in AR. This work was part of a broader unit about how ordinary people can fight against injustice. The opportunity to meet Dr. Roberts came up through teacher Caitlin MacLeod-Bluver’s connections with Facing History and Ourselves.

In 1955, a teenage Roberts volunteered to be one of the first Black students to desegregate one of the largest high schools in America. The Arkansas Governor's efforts to fight desegregation resulted in a temporary closure of Little Rock's public high schools - historically called “The Lost Year”. Roberts then spent his senior year in Los Angeles, and continued his education, eventually earning a Ph.D. degree in Psychology. He spent the latter part of his career as the Assistant Dean in the UCLA School of Social Welfare. He was awarded a Congressional Gold Medal in 1999.

One student asked, “Were you ever scared going into the school with the white parents screaming at you that you shouldn’t go in and making death threats?” Dr. Terrence Roberts replied, “Scared? I didn’t even know a person could be that afraid! However, being a life-long learner I learned about fear. Other people will do things that are harmful. You can respond with hatred or fear...but that’s letting the other person’s actions affect you. I wanted to be in control of what I could be in control of -- myself. So I learned how to stop responding with fear.”

After the meeting, student William P. said, “I will remember what he said about how to help a person who is having trouble if I see an injustice.”
Eight Actions You Can Take to Strengthen Your Anti-Racist Practice
by Graham Clarke, WSD MTSS Coordinator

1 - Read, listen, observe and develop your PANing skills (Pay Attention Now). Pay close attention to the situations you are in and the words being spoken. In early June, I was listening to the Florida police chief and deputy mayor speak with a student protestors. Five times the adult officials spoke of “the tragedy that happened to Mr. Floyd.” There was no mention of any other unarmed citizen who also had been killed by police nor recognition of the growing pattern of such incidents. From this observable fact, it seemed the dialogue was being framed as “there are a few bad apples” rather than “our institutions’ systems (health care, courts, police, schools, etc.) are rotten and need fundamental change.”

2 - Show up! Grab a mask and attend a local demonstration to support students and others. Participate in the march or drive by and honk your horn or drop off a case of water. Have your voice heard and your body seen.

3 - Ask yourself, “Do I identify myself as a racist?” If not, “Do I identify myself as anti-racist?” If not, “Why don’t I identify myself as an anti-racist person?”

4 - With an open mind and open heart, watch and listen to Dr. Ibram Kendi on YouTube, best selling author of How To Be An Antiracist https://bit.ly/HowToBeAntiRacist_KENDI

5 - Do not ask a person of color, “Do you think I am racist?” Try to own your actions/ statements and don’t put the burden on other people. Even if everyone agrees that you are not a racist, that doesn’t mean you won’t say or do something that others view as a racist comment/action. Consider deeply the idea that all of us, racist and anti-racist alike, live, learn and/or work in a country that was built on land taken by force and/or by breaking treaties with Indigenous Nations and in a country largely built by the labor of slaves and indentured servants.

6 - Be less silent and ask questions

Andrew M. Ibrahim MD (surgeryredesign.com) found it impossible to work on “Redesigning Healthcare” and “Health in All Design” without the lens and context of Race. Inspired by the work of Dr. Kendi, he created this graphic which reflects his journey toward becoming Anti-Racist.

and speak up more when you observe discrimination and acts of prejudice.

In early May, before George Floyd was murdered, I was in a local coffee shop with one other customer and two store clerks. All four of us wore a mask and no one in the store was speaking. A few seconds later she turned around, she quickly and silently left the store. I was slow to react but I did observe (PAN) that the video clearly showed that she walked toward the black man who was recording her on Memorial Day, she is seen calling NYC Central Park. Recorded on cellphone on May 25, 2020, it’s titled “I am being threaten/I don’t feel safe” language was used by a white woman as a weapon toward a black man who was bird watching in Central Park. Recorded on cellphone on Central Park, police screaming that she was, “being threatened by an African-American man.” I have no idea if she felt safe or unsafe but I did observe (PAN) that the video clearly showed that she walked toward the black man who was recording her on his phone. When was the last time you saw someone walk toward the person they said was threatening them? My experience is that people walk away from “danger” not toward it. The man and the woman left before the police arrived and so he avoided a potential life-threatening situation.

7 - Reduce, or stop, saying, “It was not my intent to ……” offend you / cause you pain with my words / or make you feel inferior to me etc. etc. "People in (institutional) power tend to focus on what their intent of a statement was and people not in power tend to focus on the impact the statement or action has (on them), “ a parent commented at Burlington High School meeting responding to racial issues in the community and schools. "Denying the impact of something said or not said, done or not done, by focusing on intent is often more destructive than the initial interaction," writes R. Kim.

8 - Be mindful of using the phrase “I don’t feel safe…” It can shut down a conversation about race. While the “it was not my intent” response tends to end a conversation; my experience is when a white person says "I don’t feel safe" the discussion also quickly ends. Courageous conversations on race usually involve one or more person feeling discomfort. But R. Kim reminds us that “discomfort is different from harm.” Recently the “I am being threatened/I don’t feel safe” language was used by a white woman as a weapon toward a black man who was bird watching in a white person says "I don’t feel safe" the discussion also quickly ends. Courageous conversations on race usually involve one or more person feeling discomfort. But R. Kim reminds us that “discomfort is different from harm.” Recently the “I am being threatened/I don’t feel safe” language was used by a white woman as a weapon toward a black man who was bird watching in Central Park. Ethnic and Social Equity Standards in Vermont Schools (in conformance with Act 1) — An Interview with Winooski State Rep. Diana Gonzalez

By Emily Hecker, WSD Communications and Development Director

Last year, the General Assembly of the State of Vermont enacted an Ethnic and Social Equity Standards Advisory Working Group to review current Vermont State Board of Education standards for students in Vermont, and make recommendations for updates and additional requirements that will allow students to recognize fully the history, contributions, and perspectives of ethnic groups.

These additional standards shall be designed to:

- increase cultural competency of students in prekindergarten through grade 12;
- increase attention to the history, contribution, and perspectives of ethnic groups and social groups;
- promote critical thinking regarding the history, contributions, and perspectives of ethnic groups and social groups;
- commit the school to eradicating any racial bias in its curriculum;
- provide, across its curriculum, content and methods that enable students to explore safely questions of identity, race equality, and racism; and
- ensure that the basic curriculum and extracurricular programs are welcoming to all students and take into account parental concerns about religion or culture.

I spoke to Rep. Gonzalez about Act 1, which she co-sponsored.

Can you tell us more about the bill?

DG: This came about because a number of parents, students and general activists saw that in Vermont schools students were not being represented in the curriculum they were being taught. It was painful for many of them. They wanted to fix this problem. They wanted to make sure what students were learning reflected the full spectrum of the students in Vermont schools: Students of color, immigrant or refugee students, LGBTA students, and students with disabilities. Current state-wide curriculum does not necessarily reflect students who have been traditionally marginalized. Some districts, like Winooski, do include the struggles, celebrations and everyday lives of People of Color and other marginalized groups in their curriculum, but it’s inconsistent across the state. The parents, students and general activists who advocated for this bill wanted curriculum across Vermont to be enhanced and to make it easier for teachers to offer their students different perspectives instead of the burden being on individual teachers.

When can students and teachers expect to see these recommendations reflected in their curriculum?

Currently, we have passed a bill that says we will form a group of people who will work together to figure out how to make our goals of ethnic and social equity standards happen. This group will create the method and timeline for implementation across the state.

What are you hoping Act 1 will accomplish?

My aspiration is that it provides a foundation for teachers to provide meaningful support for their students. I was a teacher for a few years - I know how important it is to have access to a curriculum that reflects the successes and challenges of our students, especially for students from groups who have overcome adversity. Having this support across the state will make it easier for students to be reflected. I think of the need for curriculum to function both as a window and as a mirror.

When students see a mirror, who they are is reflected back at them. Their interests and identity groups are reflected back at them.

Windows allow students to see the realities of others, the lives of people who are different from them.

Vermont students need a curriculum that reflects their own experiences as well as the experiences of others. I hope this bill will help all students grow as whole human beings, to feel accepted and learn how to accept other people.

5th Graders Enjoy Mobile Celebration

Each year, JFK Elementary has a 5th grade BBQ and Dance to celebrate our 5th graders moving onto middle school. This year, that was not possible! Instead, the 5th grade team got creative, and we organized a mobile 5th grade celebration. In the weeks following up to the mobile celebration, we created goodie bags for each of our 5th grade students. We had WSD silicone bracelets made, heart shaped iced cookies, and each 5th grader received a copy of the book Be You! By Peter Reynolds. Each 5th grade teacher signed the book, and I wrote each student a personalized message in their book. Past teachers wrote notes to students, all individualized and heartfelt. We added their JFK certificate, and the bags were ready to go. Sarah Murphy mapped out a route for us, including a time schedule so families could be outside ready to celebrate. The planning and preparation was detailed and made the actual event run smoothly.

On Monday, June 8th the 5th grade teachers and myself decorated our cars, and drove to each 5th grader’s home. We socially distanced, and wore masks, but we were able to celebrate each student, their accomplishments, and their completion of 5th grade. While it wasn’t a traditional end to their JFK school experience, it was amazing and unique. A huge thank you to the 5th grade team for all of their hard work putting it all together. We are so proud of this 5th grade class, all they accomplished, and their ability to end their last year at JFK strong, embracing all of the changes that happened.
As JFK Elementary shifted to distance learning due to COVID-19, the Vermont Youth Orchestra Association (VYOA), offered virtual violin lessons for the students enrolled in the 21C afterschool program. Last month we didn’t have room to include photos so here are a few! Left column: advanced violin students. SPECIAL FOCUS ON: WSD AND THE FIGHT FOR RACIAL JUSTICE

Racial Injustice in Vermont
By Aden Jelle

Dear people of Vermont, my name is Aden Jelle. I’m a 16-year-old black refugee teen who came here for a better life. When I came to the United States I had never heard of or knew about what racial discrimination is. Hearing the news about the terrible racial discrimination broke my heart. I feel terribly angry and scared, especially towards the police after seeing the atrocious video of George Floyd dying helplessly under a white policeman’s knee. I’ve heard a lot of stories about black people being discriminated against just because of their skin color. After learning about slavery and how my people were being treated back then, by people who are like the police officer who ended Gorge Floyd’s life, I feel like the same racial discrimination that happened a long time ago is still happening today.

I am writing this letter because I am concerned about my future! I am concerned if this is going to keep happening over and over again and it will never end. I am concerned that the same thing is going to happen to me, my brother, any of my family members!!

It’s important for us to understand that color does not define if we are bad or good people. There were and are a lot of questions going through my mind after seeing the horrific videos of police brutality towards black people. The number of police killings in the US disproportionately affects African Americans. In 2019, “Black people were 24% of those killed by police despite being only 13% of the population.” (Source: https://mappingpoliceviolence.org/)

How can we end this problem that we are going through? What can we do to be more friendly to the police so that they will no more shoot us? How can we educate ourselves and others about racial discrimination against black people?

If you can help me answer my questions don’t be silent.

I know that my voice is important, and yours is too.

Take action. Black people can not do this alone.

June Business Student of the Month
By Courtney Poquette, WHS Business Teacher

Our final Business Student of the Month of the year is awarded to Camden Benoit!

When it came to distance learning in Personal Finance, Camden CRUSHED IT! Not only was he the first to turn in assignments; he went above and beyond the expectations by writing in depth reflections and sending emails to ask questions and learn more. I am excited to see the plans he developed play out in the years to come.

Colleagues: Please feel free to shower Camden with emails congratulating him. It is a well deserved recognition!
Black Lives Matter

By Emily Jacobs, Art Teacher

Artist Statement by Hawa Mayange, Grade 8

I feel sad, heartbroken and angry that Black people get killed for no reason simply because of their skin color. Just because someone has a different skin color from you and is different from you doesn’t mean they deserve to be treated differently. Just because they are different from you doesn’t mean they are terrorist, illegal, or a threat. We might come from different places, but we are all human beings and we deserve to be treated the same.

For my artwork I drew a Black woman with the US flag covering her mouth, with George Floyd’s name on it. I wrote Black Lives Matter across the bottom, and filled the background with names of Black men and women who have been murdered. Across the top, I wrote “Stop Killing Us.” So many Black people have been killed by police or [civilian] white people for no reason, and so the message of my artwork is that BLACK LIVES MATTER.

I hope white people learn that treating people differently because of their skin is not okay, and saying racist stuff about someone’s culture, religion, skin color is wrong. Yes, I am different from you, but that doesn’t mean you can say and do whatever you want to me.

I hope my fellow Black people never feel bad or ashamed about having their dark skin color. I hope they feel proud about having a different skin color, because Black skin color is special, and Blackness is like a gift from God. I hope my fellow Black people know that their Blackness is the best thing that ever happened to them, because Black is beautiful.

Artist Statement by Nadine Ikizakubuntu, Grade 8

The incident that happened to George Floyd inspired me to make this artwork. It’s very sad and disappointing to see this still happening to Black people just because of their skin color. Some people say that, “It’s not only black lives matter---it’s all lives” That’s true---that all lives should matter---but the reason we say “BLACK LIVES MATTER” is because other lives---white lives---have mattered to America and to police for as long as we can remember, but Black lives haven’t seemed to matter. That’s why we say Black Lives Matter. BLACK IS BEAUTIFUL.

My artwork is meant to say that enough is enough. Too many Black people have been killed just because of their skin color. I don’t understand how the color of your skin matters---what matters is what is inside you.

Even though there have been a lot of our people killed, I hope that we can still stand and fight for our rights and never give up. Our skin color is not a threat. Of course, all life matters---so Black lives need to matter to America.
Black Lives Matter

By Evelyn Monje

“I would like to acknowledge every white person here. I will not thank you. You are here to stand because you stand for basic human rights for EVERYONE. In this period of time, yes, this is revolutionary, and yet how is it possible that any human has been denied HUMAN rights. For hundreds of years, Africans and African Americans have been viewed as less than human. I’m glad you’ve decided to come here today, but this should not be a mission of gratitude for you. I would like to thank all the African and African American kings and queens, our kings and queens of melanin who have joined us here today. Because this act is truly revolutionary. This is an act that deserves awe. You have stood against the power of a nation, even when the risk of you losing your life is so high. This is EXTRAORDINARY.

We, kings and queens of melanin, have hundreds of years of resentment, hate, pain, and sorrow sown into our very being waiting to explode, AND DO YOU KNOW WHAT WE MUST DO

We must refine this explosion into an overwhelming power. Revolution is nothing new to us. Our bodies hold the quiet power of ‘no, I will not leave this seat,’ and our voices hold the everlasting weight of ‘I have a dream,’ so no, revolution is not new to us and I am proud of every single king and queen for drawing their power from their bones and standing here with me today.

We are here to stand against the police who are murdering us. Something I see often is ACAB. I cannot believe that every cop is bad, but many of them do not have revolution coursing in their beings. This is new to them. How do you stand against your brother in arms? Look to the kings and queens who have stood for centuries against those with more power. Follow our lead. Use your voice, because I do not believe that all cops are bad, but when you have a force of over half a million officers who have sworn to protect and serve. If ANY, EVEN ONE, is bad they have the power to snuff the life out of innocents, and in our today those innocents are majority kings of melanin. Where do these cops get their power? From our silence, but NEVER AGAIN.

To the white people here today. I nod at you. I acknowledge your presence in this battle. Please continue to use your privilege to lift black voices to the skies. Continue following our example, as we have known how to fight for our lives from a young age, for a very long time.

To the black peoples here today I thank you, I admire you, and I ask that you please continue to fight. Draw power from those before us and stand tall. We are a tsunami ready to revolutionize the nation. and it is no longer if it is a when!

Do we have any police here today?

No, we did not: While it was gracious of them to permit officers to join us it is unfortunate that they’re not here alongside us… we hope that they join our movement and represent what real police look like:”

Evelyn Monje is a junior at Winooski High School. She gave this speech in June at a student-led Black Lives Matter march in response to the murder of George Floyd.

A Reflection on Racial Justice and Antiracism

By Luke Dorfman, High School Math Teacher and 2019 Rowland Foundation Fellow

The words of my friend, Christie Nold, are ringing in my ears right now: “During the past week, our country has revisited a cycle of violence that seems to disappear from the news for a moment before returning again.” I’m thinking about the recent murder of George Floyd, the racial profiling of Christian Cooper, the words of my friend, Christie Nold, are ringing in my ears right now: “During the past week, our country has revisited a cycle of violence that seems to disappear from the news for a moment before returning again.” I’m thinking about the recent murder of George Floyd, the racial profiling of Christian Cooper, among so many others.

I recognize that racism exists everywhere - including in our own Winooski community. I’m thinking about the statement: “Racism and inequality are products of design. They can be redesigned” (equityXdesign). As a white educator, I see it as my responsibility to transform my own practice to be in service of equity, justice, and antiracism - work I am still making sense of and learning about. I know it is important to listen, learn, and act. Below, I’m sharing some resources I find valuable in case others will find meaning in them too.

As a good place to start, I encourage you to check out...

• “Talking About Race” from the National Museum of African American History & Culture, which provides numerous tools for and guidance on talking about race and engaging others in conversation.

• “The Characteristics of White Supremacy Culture” from Dismantling Racism: A Workbook for Social Change Groups, which gives name to what white supremacy culture looks like and how it appears in our organizations and institutions.

• “What’s My Complicity? Talking White Fragility with Robin DiAngelo” from Teaching Tolerance, which shares an important perspective for white people who are well-intentioned and doing anti-racist and social justice work. Some books about racial justice and antiracism I plan to read closely include...

• “So You Want To Talk About Race” by Ijeoma Oluo

• “How To Be An Antiracist” by Ibram X. Kendi

• 28 Books That Talk About Race - a reading list published by Read It Forward

• If you’re looking for other resources to learn more about racial justice and antiracism, or if you’d like to get involved with equity work happening at WSD or in the City, please feel free to reach out to myself (ldorfman@wsdvt.org) or Kirsten Kollgaard (kkollgaard@wsdvt.org).

Message from Mayor Kristine Lott

Hello Neighbors. That word means so much to me right now as more of our neighbors are dealing with positive cases of COVID-19, a diagnosis that is hard to hear. I hope we can continue to come together as a community to support and protect each other.

We are grateful for the hard work and collaborative approach of the Vermont Department of Health, Community Health Centers of Burlington, City staff, and other community partners helping to support a robust testing effort to meet our community’s needs. We are grateful for neighbors who continue to practice health safety by wearing masks and face coverings in public places, washing their hands, and following the physical distancing guidelines that continue to be set by the Vermont Department of Health and the CDC. We know that even though the state is opening back up, the virus is still here and we have to continue to be vigilant. Remember, people can be positive without symptoms (asymptomatic) so the best thing to do is focus on what you as an individual can do to protect others. In addition to our continued fight against COVID-19, we’re also addressing the fight against racism. The senseless murder of George Floyd and the resulting national unrest has compounded our grief tremendously - please know that we are here for you and we are listening. I stand with our Chief of Police in condemning these actions, please take a moment to read the recent statement made by the Winooski Police Department at winooskivt.gov.

WPD has one of the strongest Fair and Impartial Policing policies in Vermont. Over the years, WPD has participated in many training exercises and educational opportunities spanning a variety of equity and inclusion efforts including early adoption of body cameras, unconscious bias workshops, focused de-escalation training, restorative justice, and committing to the ongoing equity work the City has done and will continue to do together. Winooski continues to be a place of welcoming and opportunity, now more than ever - but we are not immune to racism in Vermont. Winooski’s leaders will continue to educate ourselves and listen to the important experiences of our neighbors. We are committed to being a part of the solution and will continue to invite new voices to the policy-making and government process, work with our partner organizations, and make progress through our equity and inclusion efforts.

Community members continue to share their amazing ideas with me on how we can improve our policing policies together and I encourage any resident to do the same - what other ideas do you have on how we can do better? I am all ears, email or call any time. Remember, Winooski’s strongest asset is our safe, healthy, and connected community - now more than ever.

Winooski Police Department Statements on George Floyd and Current Policing Policies

On June 1, 2020 – Chief of Police Rick Hebert released a statement regarding George Floyd. He stated: “Once again, we find ourselves devastated by an appalling and heartbreaking use of force incident that has resulted in those we have sworn to protect and serve, fearing for their own safety at the hands of those whose duty it is to keep them safe. To stand as a profession and condemn the actions of the officers involved in these many tragic events is a start, but we need to do so much more. Most importantly police executives need to take steps to ensure the officers under their command are provided a culture that values equality, respect, human dignity and above all the sanctity of all human life. Leadership needs to continuously support and promote these values and recognize officers that are positive examples in their agency.”

Many of our residents have asked about our current policing policies, the work that we’ve done as a department and City, and the work we’re dedicated to continue to do. We’ve outlined those and welcome the opportunity to engage with and talk with all members of our community about how Winooski can be a safe, healthy, and connected City into the future.

Please take a moment to view both statements on winooskivt.gov/police

We will continue to invest in the community and ourselves through these policies and our ongoing dedication to the City’s equity and inclusion initiatives. We will continue to host block parties, BBQ’s, educational opportunities, coffee sessions, and discussions. We always welcome any and all community feedback – feel free to reach out any time: Rick Hebert, Chief of Police rhebert@winooskipolice.com / 802 655 0221

Charter Commission Message to Community

Hello neighbors,

The Winooski Charter Commission is charged with examining options to present Winooski voters with a charter change that would enable all Winooski residents to vote in Winooski municipal elections, regardless of citizenship status.

As part of this process, the Commission is charged with conducting public outreach to the community through public information sessions, forums, and direct outreach. After a brief hiatus due to the COVID-19 pandemic and health crisis, the Commission has returned to holding virtual meetings, and is seeking your input.

The fact sheet on this and the following page provides more information regarding the current consideration in front of the Commission. We are hoping to gain as much community input as possible, centering on our Winooski residents most impacted by this potential change, in advance of making a recommendation to the City Council. We welcome public input at our meetings, which can be joined via Zoom or by telephone.

For more information, and a calendar of our upcoming meetings, please visit winooskivt.gov/charter.

You can also email us your feedback, or ask us any questions you may have by emailing charter@winooskivt.gov. We hope to hear from you soon, as we work towards equity for all residents of our little city.

Winooski Charter Commission - All-Resident Voting Factsheet

Winooski Charter Commission info: winooskivt.gov/charter

Meetings: First and third Tuesdays at 5:30 pm

Email your questions & comments: charter@winooskivt.gov

Introduction

The Winooski Charter Commission is a task-oriented Commission that advises the City Council on potential changes to the Municipal Charter, the foundational governance document of the City of Winooski. Currently, the Commission is charged with examining options to present Winooski voters with a charter change that would enable all residents to vote in Winooski municipal elections, protect Winooski voter information, align the School and City charters, and consider additional governance changes identified by the Council, staff, and public. The Winooski Charter Commission needs your input during this important public outreach process and is happy to provide you with the information you need.

Purpose

All of our residents contribute in a multitude of ways. We pay our taxes, buy homes and property, open businesses, and send our kids to our schools. Together we create the advantageous diversity our community has celebrated for almost 100 years - regardless of our citizenship status. A change to our municipal charter would allow any qualified Winooski resident, who may for various reasons not have US citizenship, to vote only in municipal elections – giving a voice to our neighbors in local matters that affect them, their families, and their lives.

Context

All-resident voting in elections goes back to the founding of the United States. After the American Revolution, non-US citizens were allowed to vote in many states. By the 19th century, non-citizens in at least 22 US states were voting in local, state, and federal elections. But a flood of immigrants to America at the start of the 20th century fueled a rise of anti-immigrant sentiment - and by 1926, all states had abolished the practice. As of today, non-citizens are allowed to vote in some local elections in Chicago, San Francisco, and Maryland – a process that has proven successful. Other communities in Vermont are also considering this. It was approved locally in Montpelier in 2019 and is also under discussion in Burlington.
What are the steps to allow for all-resident voting?
The Supreme Court of Vermont has stated that the Legislature has the ability to change charters for towns and cities. This is a multistep process:

Questions We’ve Considered (FAQs): We welcome your feedback on all of these ideas!

- Who would be qualified to vote? Residents here under a federally sanctioned legal category (such as a green card or a permanent resident visa, etc.) and who will be 18 years of age or older on or by election day.

- What does resident mean? Someone who resides in Winooski with the intent to stay – the same as applies to citizen voters.

- Could non-citizens run for office? Under the current charter language, if all qualified Winooski residents are allowed to vote, all qualified Winooski residents will be able to run for local office.

- Would the voter registration lists be public? Yes. The City would maintain (1) a state and federal voter registration list and (2) a municipal voter registration list of all qualified Winooski voters. Both would be available upon request.

- How would non-citizens register? The same way all voters register: come to City Hall or the polling place and swear that they are who they say they are and are a resident of Winooski.

- Why don’t people just become citizens? It's complicated. There are lots of barriers to gaining citizenship. These could include:
  - Time. You often have to have lived here for at a minimum 3 to 5 years before you can apply.
  - Eligibility or long waiting lists. Depending on where you are from, only a small number of people are allowed access to citizenship every year.
  - Future access to homeland. Some don’t want to give up the right to travel home or move home in the future and US citizenship could eliminate that possibility.
  - Cost. The application itself is $725 plus classes and lawyers if needed.

- I’m not a US citizen. If I register to vote, is my information public? Yes. Your standard voter information is on the list. Your citizenship status is not.

- Will this prohibit me from applying for citizenship status? To date, this has not inhibited citizenship applications.

- When is the vote? If approved by the City Council and after three public hearings, current voters would be asked to vote on a Charter change in November 2020.

- How can I provide more feedback? Email us at charter@winooskivt.gov.
How Do I Know If This Is A Crisis?
By Brandi Littlefield, Assistant Director of First Call for Chittenden County & Community Outreach Program Lead, Howard Center

We often hear from individuals that they don’t know who to call for help or that they are uncertain if what they are experiencing is enough to reach out for additional support. If a situation is causing you or someone you are in contact with distress, we urge you to always reach out. There is no wrong call when assistance is needed. Your community is committed to the well-being of their members, and help is just a phone call away.

But, how do you know if something is a crisis? Reach out and make that call if you are concerned about the well-being of yourself or another, if someone needs immediate services, or if there is the potential for risk.

Here are a few possible scenarios to help you get a better sense of who you could call:

- Your teenager tells you he or she is worried that their classmate is struggling with thoughts of suicide.
- You’re not sure what to do next. Call First Call for Chittenden County (a 24/7/365 crisis hotline) at 802-488-7777, or if there are immediate safety concerns, call 911.
- You’re a business owner and an individual’s behavior is making your customers uncomfortable. You are unsure if substance use or mental health challenges are involved. If the individual is not posing a safety risk, contact Community Outreach for Winooski at 802-488-7778.
- If you have concerns for someone you know, but you don’t know how to help, or if you see someone on the street who looks lost or confused but isn’t able to communicate a need for help, call Community Outreach or First Call for Chittenden County. If safety is a concern, contact 911.
- Someone may have thoughts of harming themselves. They may become very withdrawn or make concerning statements. Maybe they hear voices or become emotionally overwhelmed. For any concerning changes in behavior, this is a time to reach out for help.

We are all aware of 911, but when a situation doesn’t require a first responder—police, ambulance, fire—there are other options for help.

The most important thing to remember is that there is no wrong number to call. We—and our network of community providers—will work with you to make sure that you are connected to the services that best support your needs. Our goal is to make the connections, build relationships, and reduce the stigma frequently associated with asking for help. Together we can make a difference for our neighbors.

The Power of Parents
By Kate Nugent, Partnership for Prevention Executive Director

People in recovery often will say the one of the most important lessons they’ve learned about life is that allowing themselves to feel their negative feelings makes them better able to experience their positive feelings. Brené Brown, author and doctorate in psychology, states that it’s not possible to numb negative emotions without also numbing the positive ones.

To that end, during this time of increased stress and anxiety, we continue to work to provide tools, resources, and ideas that can support the community’s health. When our environment supports our health as adults, we are able to model healthier behaviors, which benefits youth, who are future adults.

Here are ways some folks are managing the Pandemic that do not involve substance use:

- Locally, Sports cards, and a local business is thriving.
- Across the country, people are adopting pets, raising backyard chickens, and baking bread.
- If you need help, there are resources for you that range from reading to connecting with people with specific skills to work through the anxiety and depression that many of us are faced with right now.

Alcohol Policy Changes & Health Consequences

Another challenge we are watching and weighing in on is the changes to alcohol policies in Vermont and beyond. We are concerned about the potential impacts of making access to alcohol easier, especially without appropriate information about the health impacts, both short and long-term, especially with more use.

The amount of alcohol sold and promoted within a specific geographic boundary has specific effects on over-consumption, as well as youth use. The California-based watchdog group Alcoholic Justice states in their recent letter to the California alcohol control agency, “research demonstrated time and time again that overconcentration leads to an increase in alcohol-related harms.” Short-term impacts can include increases in violent behavior, physical injuries from stumbles and falls, and lowering of judgment leading to regrettable decisions, as well as traffic fatalities. Long-term impacts can include liver disease, impaired brain function, depression, anxiety, and 7 types of cancer, including breast cancer and colon.

And as with many issues, alcohol use affects racial and ethnic minorities at greater rates. Substance industries target these communities by locating in neighborhoods where there are greater populations of racial and ethnic minorities, and use marketing to claim they are on the side of underprivileged and marginalized groups. Meanwhile, they continue to profit from sales of substances that create barriers to health.
North End Studios’ Delicious Reopening

Like most businesses in Winooski, North End Studios closed their doors in mid-March and have been working on a plan to offer safe services to Winooski residents once the restrictions were lifted.

During these challenging times, we have needed to be creative with our services. We have begun offering Saturday night International Take-Out Dinners at North End Studios-Winooski at the O’Brien Center, 32 Malletts Bay Avenue. On Saturday, May 30, we offered delicious Indian food from Dosa Love. All hot meals were packaged and ready for pick-up outside the NES O’Brien Center with an assigned pick up time. It was a great success with almost 100 orders! Sincere thanks to Dosa Love for donating all the proceeds to North End Studios.

The next dinner is on Saturday, June 20 beginning at 4 pm with Mulu’s popular Ethiopian/Eritrean food, and we will continue to offer take-out dinners from a wide variety of countries each Saturday throughout the summer. To find out what is being offered each week, you can go to North End Studios Facebook page, or go to our website at northendstudios.org. Tickets for these NES International Take-out Dinners can be purchased at sevendaystickets.com, and you will be notified of a scheduled pickup time for your food.

North End Studios is planning some outdoor exercise and dance classes and some small group musical gatherings at the NES O’Brien Center. For a complete list of all NES offerings, go to our website at northendstudios.org. You will also find a complete list of ways our organization is working to keep you and your family safe when you participate in our programming.

Longtime Facilities OLOP Manager retires amid grateful nods to dedication

When Jack O’Brien walked into Our Lady of Providence Residential Care Facility for an interview, he donned a tie and jacket.

An affectionate message inscribed on Jack O’Brien’s cake during his retirement party from Our Lady of Providence.

After winning the job of Facilities’ Director at the West Spring Street facility, he intended to stay there for a year or two. Those plans were derailed when O’Brien, who remained on staff for six years, fell in love not only with his job, but with OLOP residents.

That love was on full display May 29 when O’Brien formally retired from the facility he served so well. The celebration included testimonies from OLOP Executive Director Mary Belanger concerning O’Brien’s dedication and strong work ethic.

Residents and staff gathered outside of the chapel for the presentation. O’Brien expressed gratitude for the good will and praised the close-knit community.

A reception featuring cake and champagne followed and O’Brien received a plaque, honoring his work. As a tribute, the first-floor wing was re-named “O’Brien’s Way” in his honor.

Chantel Berard, who has known O’Brien for years, is the new Facilities’ Director. She is pleased for O’Brien, but admits she has “big shoes to fill.”

“I think retirement is well-deserved for Jack,” Berard said. “He’s a very hard-working man.”

A Burlington resident, O’Brien and his wife plan on travelling in Europe in the weeks to come and he promised to stay in touch with OLOP residents and staff.

Litany for Those Who Aren’t Ready for Healing
By Rev. Dr. Yolanda Pierce (Professor and (the first female) Dean of the Howard University School of Divinity

Let us not rush to the language of healing, before understanding the fullness of the injury and the depth of the wound.
Let us not rush to offer a band-aid, when the gaping wound requires surgery and complete reconstruction.
Let us not offer false equivalencies, thereby diminishing the particular pain being felt in a particular circumstance in a particular historical moment.
Let us not speak of reconciliation without speaking of reparations and restoration, or how we can repair the breach and how we can restore the loss.
Let us not rush past the loss of this mother’s child, this father’s child…someone’s beloved son.
Let us not value property over people; let us not protect material objects while human lives hang in the balance.
Let us not value a false peace over a righteous justice.
Let us not be afraid to sit with the ugliness, the messiness, and the pain that is life in community together.
Let us not offer clichés to the grieving, those whose hearts are being torn asunder. Instead…
Let us mourn black and brown men and women, those killed extrajudicially every 28 hours.
Let us lament the loss of men, dead at the hands of a police officers who describe them as demons.
Let us weep at a criminal justice system, which is neither blind nor just.
Let us call for the mourning men and the wailing women, those willing to rend their garments of privilege and ease, and sit in the ashes of this nation’s original sin.
Let us be silent when we don’t know what to say.
Let us be humble and listen to the pain, rage, and grief pouring from the lips of our neighbors and friends.
Let us decrease, so that our brothers and sisters who live on the underside of history may increase.
Let us pray with our eyes open and our feet firmly planted on the ground
Let us listen to the shattering glass and let us smell the purifying fires, for it is the language of the unheard.
God, in your mercy…
Show me my own complicity in injustice.
Convict me for my indifference.
Forgive me when I have remained silent.
Equip me with a zeal for righteousness.
Never let me grow accustomed or acclimated to unrighteousness.

The above prayer was part of a series from Future Church entitled “To Speak the Truth In Love.” You can view the series on line at: https://www.futurechurch.org/

“Now is the time to make real the promises of democracy. Now is the time to rise from the dark and desolate valley of segregation to the sunlit path of racial justice. Now is the time to open the doors of opportunity to all of God’s children. Now is the time to lift our nation from the quicksands of racial injustice to the solid rock of brotherhood.” (and sisterhood)

— Martin Luther King Jr., I Have a Dream: Writings and Speeches That Changed the World

Remember, together we can make a difference. The Winooski Peace Initiative is looking for suggestions about how to celebrate The International Day of Peace. As we know, this may look different this year. If you have suggestions, please contact Sr. Pat McKittrick by email at pat.mckittrick@uvmhealth.org.

What Is Going On?
By Hal Colston, City Councilor and State Representative

Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. routinely would send in the title of his sermon every Wednesday when he was away from Ebenezer Baptist Church in Atlanta. On April 3, 1968 Dr. King sent in his sermon title, “Why America May Go to Hell.” He was murdered the next day. I have always wondered what his message would have been. Sadly, as I struggle to find hope as a black man in this racist country at this time, I wonder if we are in a prophetic moment in the United States’ fragile history.

I truly believe that racism (systemic, structural, institutional) is the scalpel for capitalism. The lowest cost yields the highest profit. Black, brown and poor white people are exploited and oppressed for the benefit of the wealthy and powerful in our country. The System was put in place in 1619 when the first 20 enslaved Africans arrived on the shores of Virginia. Millions of enslaved Africans later became the economic engine for our country and the vestiges are alive and well today making our economy the strongest in the world. Then, all of our institutions were in 100% control by wealthy, white landowners, land stolen from the first people of this nation. Now, about 90% of our institutions are in control by privileged, white men.

If we are to survive this moment in our fragile history, I feel that my white brothers and sisters must take responsibility for this racist, capitalistic system. You may not have created it but you benefit from it, perhaps with complicity. Black and brown people are not alone suffering from racism because I feel it robs the humanity of the dominant culture. Capitalism allows people to be free because people are unfree. All of us are wounded by racism.

For years I have facilitated workshops about race, power and privilege in Vermont. Once I was asked what is the opposite of being racist? I said being fully human. How do we engage racism through our heart and not through our head is the question? How does the dominant culture come to terms with its own oppression? How do we become fully human? Police reform that will prevent the senseless killing of so many black and brown people is only the tip of the iceberg.
Congratulations Class of 2020!
